Lake Worth is a coastal city of 37,000 residents and 7 square miles, located in Palm Beach County, Florida. The Atlantic Ocean and the broad waters of the Lake Worth Lagoon form the city's east boundary and the beautiful fresh waters of Lake Osborne its west. Next door to Palm Beach, it is situated along the latitude making the northern most point of the subtropics. Lake Worth is truly the place "where the tropics begin" and the fun never ends.

Lake Worth is a dynamic, multi-cultural city with a strong social and environmental consciousness. People are drawn to the city by its independent character, acceptance of different cultures and lifestyles, many historic structures, hip downtown, and distinctive residential neighborhoods. The city has a rich history and is protective of its historic architectural fabric. Over 1,000 historic buildings contribute to the human scale and charm of the downtown and residential areas.

The City is the geographic and artistic center of Palm Beach County. The downtown is considered the artistic soul of Lake Worth with a historic theater and a museum, live music clubs, coffee houses, art galleries, antique malls, retail stores, and many restaurants

The City of Lake Worth owns and operates a 5 acre 2MW solar field on an unused landfill which provides green energy to all customers of Lake Worth Electric Utilities.

PALM BEACH COUNTY

Economic Overview

The current economic indicators for Palm Beach County point to a vibrant and healthy economy -- one that is growing and thriving. Encompassing more than 2,000 square miles, Palm Beach County is one of the largest in the eastern United States and the third-largest in Florida.

Of 3,100 counties nationwide, Palm Beach County is one of a select group of only 22 to earn the highest possible bond rating, AAA, by all three of the major rating agencies, Moody's Investors Services, Fitch, and Standard & Poor's. Palm Beach County is also the only county in Florida to have earned this designation.

Fitch described Palm Beach County as one of the nation's wealthiest counties, with per capita personal income levels nearly 50% higher than state and national averages. The ratings firm said its grade reflects Palm Beach County's vital and diversifying economic base, sound financial position, and moderate debt levels. As for its economic base, Fitch noted our strengths in luxury tourism, technology manufacturing, and agriculture

Forbes ranks Palm Beach County among the top nationwide in growth, with Palm Beach County's metropolitan areas as number 12 among the fastest-growing cities in the US. Forbes ranks West Palm Beach among the best places for business and careers, and Bloomberg News reported that Palm Beach County contains the third-richest ZIP code in the country.

Palm Beach County's commitment to job growth and business development is paying off for taxpayers, municipalities, and companies who relocate here. Current rankings show that Palm Beach County is breaking records, attracting smart employers and rapidly growing as a business hub.

Palm Beach County outpaces the nation in job and wage growth as companies, entrepreneurs and financiers are attracted to its business-friendly tax climate and low costs of operating.

Kelly Smallridge, President and CEO of the Business Development Board of Palm Beach County, says "Palm Beach County is attracting companies in financial services, healthcare, aerospace and distribution, as well as corporate headquarters. Palm Beach County offers several million square feet in commercial space under construction, a deep talent pool, proximity to commercial and private international airports, the high-speed Brightline rail service and a lifestyle that is unmatched."

The Facts

- Palm Beach County is larger in land area than two states: Rhode Island and Delaware. It is Florida's second-largest county in area, covering over 2,000 square miles.
- Palm Beach County is approximately 60 miles north of Miami and 150 miles southeast of Orlando. The Atlantic Ocean borders the eastern half of the county, creating 47 miles of beaches, stretching from north to south. The northwest part of the county includes Lake Okeechobee, the second largest freshwater lake in the United States.
- Within the County, which is also known as The Palm Beaches, are 39 distinct cities and towns. The largest is West Palm Beach, which has a population of 108,689. Boca Raton is second with 94,576 residents, followed by Boynton Beach, 75,995; Delray Beach, 67,249; Jupiter, 64,301; and Wellington, 63,206.

Access and Transportation

- By Plane: Ranked one of the most convenient, stress-free airports in the country, Palm Beach International Airport (PBI) is located just 2.5 miles from top resorts, pristine beaches, the Palm Beach County Convention Center and Convention Center Hotel, and West Palm Beach's thriving downtown district. PBI has nearly 200 daily non-stop arrivals and departures to more than 25 destinations in the US, Canada and the Caribbean on 13 domestic and international airlines. PBI serves over six million passengers each year, and was voted sixth best airport in the U.S. by the readers of the prestigious Conde Nast Traveler magazine in 2016.
- By Car: Travelers can follow either Interstate 95 or Florida's Turnpike, which run the length of the county and feature multiple exits at or near major streets. U.S. 441, U.S. 1, and coastal highway S.R. A1A also run through the county.
- By Rail: Passengers can travel on the Brightline, a high-speed passenger train that connects West Palm Beach to Downtown Fort Lauderdale and Downtown Miami, and will eventually connect to Orlando.

Entertainment

- The Kelsey Theater - Located in Lake Park's downtown corridor, Kelsey Theater is known for showcasing national talent. It is the only 500 capacity venue between Fort Lauderdale and Orlando.
